

Careers, Information, Advice and Guidance

30th January 2018

Dear Parents/Carers

All pupils in Year 11 follow our Careers, Information, Advice and Guidance (CIAG) programme. Taught in dedicated PSHE days, assemblies and collapsed Year 11 sessions, CIAG serves to prepare pupils for the world of work and to explore post-16 education, training or apprenticeships. Submitting successful applications, developing effective interview techniques and understanding the range of qualifications and pathways are key aspects of the course for all pupils.

Ensuring that our pupils receive the information they require to make the most appropriate and informed choices, is a priority. AS part of our CIAG programme, Priestly Collage will be coming into school to give presentations on a range of different subjects and courses available to students. The information given will be valuable to students interested in studying particular subjects regardless of where they have chosen to study next year and I would therefore encourage all pupils to attend. Please see the table below for details of the planned presentations.
